If at the end of the university you want to have an additional positive characteristic in addition to the diploma, then you need to act now. In each university there is an honorable board or something like that. You just need to make your photo as already hang on this board, put it on the most honorable place and take a picture against the background of this boards to be seen that your photo hangs in the most honorable place. This action is desirable to do every academic year. After organizing a job in some prestigious dynamically developing company, you will always have a trump card in the sleeve. Photos where you are captured on the background of the Honor Board wherever you are in the honorable place will serve as a confirmation that you are active, purposeful and generally the most valuable employee who can only find this position. After all, the honorable board does not hang anyone who. To make the employer to all this, you need to tell him to tell him for what you are honored to hang on the hill board. This story must be invented in advance and rehearse. If you do everything right, then no one has any doubts, someone will call someone to call your university and ask about you. Even if they call, you don't lose anything, maybe even by learning the truth you will still take care of your resourcefulness. And it is best to really show yourself so that you would be deservedly hanged on the board of honor !!!
